- Young people online
- Live streaming and gaming
- What can you do?
- Thinkuknow resources for primary
- Thinkuknow resources for parents and carers

Reporting to CEOP – www.ceop.police.uk

The screenshot shows the CEOP website's home page. At the top left is the CEOP logo and the text 'Child Exploitation and Online Protection command'. At the top right, there is a link: 'If you need to hide this site quickly, just click here' with a red 'Quick exit' button. The main heading asks: 'Are you worried about online sexual abuse or the way someone has been communicating with you online?'. Below this is a sub-heading: 'Make a report to one of CEOP's Child Protection Advisors'. There are three columns of content, each with a heading and a link: 'Should I make a report to CEOP? →', 'What happens when I make a report? →', and 'How can CEOP help me? →'. Each column contains a short paragraph of text and an illustration at the bottom.

The screenshot shows a dropdown menu on the CEOP reporting form. The text 'I am a child or a young person' is followed by a blue dropdown arrow. Below this, the text 'What happens when you report?' is visible. The dropdown menu is open, showing three options: 'a parent', 'a worried friend', and 'a concerned adult'. To the right of the dropdown, there is a note: 'You can change who you would like to see information for here' with a blue arrow pointing to the dropdown.

Talk to your child

- Where do they go online?
- What do they like?
- What don't they like?

Listen. Don't judge. Learn...

Then start a conversation about staying safe.

Make sure they know they can come to you.

The World Changes. Children Don't.

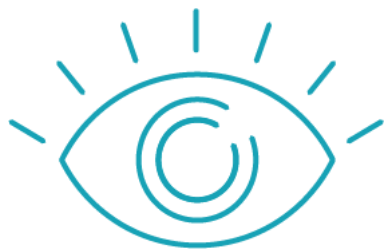

Understanding apps and games

Sharing

Chatting

Viewing

Friending

Live streaming

- Broadcasting live videos over the internet. Unmoderated & unpredictable
- Hugely popular with primary aged children
- Potentially huge audiences

The risks

- Children may not understand the risks of broadcasting to strangers. Younger children are especially vulnerable to pressure and manipulation.
- Offenders can use flattery, threats, dares and tricks, or post multiple comments in order to pressurise a young person to do inappropriate things on camera.

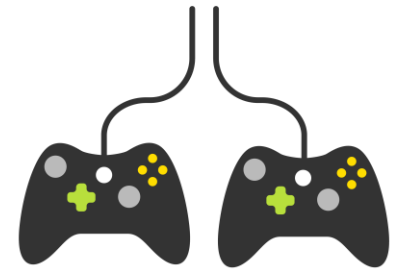

Online gaming

- Multi-player games
- Chat functions – instant messenger, voice over
- Risk from inappropriate content and contact

Risk factors

- Offenders can build relationships over online games
- Offenders use gifts in gaming to encourage children to trust them
- Moving from gaming to private platforms

#WhoisSAM?

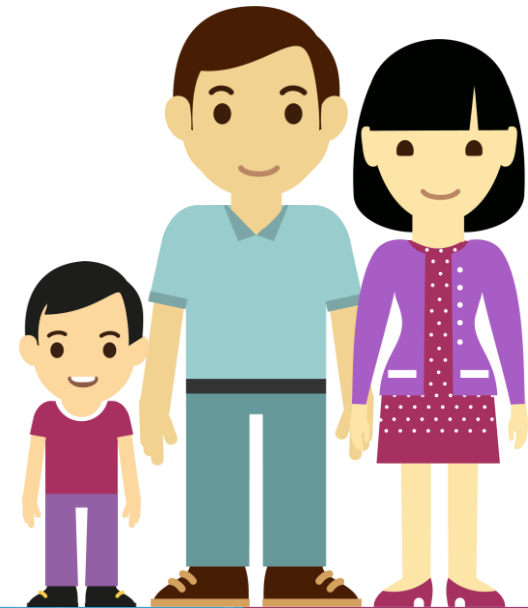

What can you do?

- Talk to your child about their life online.
- Make sure your child knows they can always come to you for help and they won't be blamed.
- Don't threaten to ban technology.

Practical steps you can take

- Create a family agreement and regularly review
- Primary aged children should only be live streaming and gaming in public rooms
- Use parental controls
- Report any concerns to local police, CEOP or the NSPCC
